Emine Dağyaran - Attorney, Lawyer and Advocate Executive of the Federation of the Disabled TRNC

When establishing my Law Firm in 2008 I was determined to ensure a trust-based partnership with clients was paramount, and I am proud to say that this is foremost in every aspect of the work undertaken and one of the main reasons why Dağyaran Hükuk Bürosu has become a successful law firm with regular repeat business from many prestigious clients.

I am a very experienced Attorney registered with the TRNC Law Bar Association, practising within the TRNC Judicial System for a number of years successfully representing in court many clients (Individuals & Companies), specialising and fully conversant in the legal aspects of the following disciplines: -

Criminal Law

Family Law (Divorce, Wills, Probate) including Inheritance Law

Business Law

Construction & Real Estate Law including Property Conveyancing (Purchasing, Selling, Renting)

Commercial Law including Trademark & Patent Law

Labour Law

Please contact me for a consultation if you require any advice / counselling / representation in respect to any of the above.

As an individual, please contact me should you require a fully qualified lawyer to undertake any / all of the legal requirements of writing a will for you, undertaking probate on your behalf, annulment, or contracts written in respect to conveyancing for your property purchase, sale or rental agreements. Likewise, should you ever require representing in regards to Criminal Law, Business Law, Construction & Real Estate Law, Trademark & Patent Law, Labour Law, Inheritance Law, Commercial Law, Contractual Law or Traffic Law please contact me.

Emine

There are people who claim to be influential, and then there are those that are – I am one of a select group which includes the President of the TRNC, Ministers of the TRNC, Leading Politicians in the TRNC, Mayors in the TRNC, Business Leaders in the TRNC and TRNC Academics, who regularly meet to discuss the important matters of the day effecting the TRNC.

A lot of people offer advice / opinion on topics they consider themselves to be an expert in. Believe who you will, but remember; there is nothing like correct advice from a fully qualified person who has successfully undertaken many years training to become qualified and then spent many more years practising what they became qualified as in order to be able to give correct advice – not opinion. Get it the right first time – not the second or third. What may seem expensive at the beginning is most likely the least expensive at the end!

What is the difference between an Attorney, Lawyer and Advocate?

Lawyers are people who have gone to law school and have taken and passed the appropriate exams in order to practise law the country the exams are applicable to. The term attorney is an abbreviated form of the formal title 'attorney at law' and is a person who has gone to law school and has taken and passed the appropriate exams in order to practise law the country the exams are applicable, in addition they have passed the bar exam in the country they practice law in and have thereby been approved to practice law in courts of that jurisdiction. An advocate is a specialist in Law.
